This research concentrates on my mission to being a good Christian that is to say certain things that I do that helps me in my journey of faith and it has really worked for me as much as being a Christian is concerned and they are as discussed below;

Try to follow Jesus' examples at all times. Just as Jesus said love that love you're the lord your God with all your heart, mind, body, soul and love your neighbor as you love yourself. In following this, am guided in the way that I should live with people who live around me.

I acknowledge that I have (faults) sins and then repent and change my attitude and pray. This therefore helps me to know that am a sinner and need to repent and ask God for forgiveness whenever I do something to him in the same way, it makes me also learn to forgive others just as am also forgiven by God.

Reading the bible at least every day. In so doing this, I get to know the scriptures which will always guide me in my journey of faith and in return strengthens my relationship with God.

Set aside time for effective and meaningful prayer. This is achieved by praying for my friends, relatives, and praying for those who ask for my prayers. This makes me to be fully engaged in prayers since I know that I have people that I need to pray for, which therefore help keep me closer to God and this will also shape my Christian life.

Fellowshipping with other believers. I achieve this by going for mass, attending retreats which is accompanied by bible studies, and positively responding to other church activities like community work, song practices which are good things that help one be a good Christian.

Try not to be judgmental. Given the fact that we live in a world where a lot is going on, but as a good Christian I try so hard to see that I don't judge others and also being guided by scriptures which say that do to others what you want them to do to you, this therefore makes one to focus on pleasing God rather than judging others.

Allow God to change me. Besides believing in God, am also supposed to allow God make amendments in my life since in life people make mistakes so to be a good Christian, I need to always accept the will of God to be done in my life.

Doing charity works. Like in this period(lent)we are advised to give alms to our brothers and sisters who may not be able to afford anything this is done by giving them clothes, sugar and visiting orphanage.

Pray for my church. I do pray for my church since I know that it is from praying that we achieve great success, following what Jesus did in the book of John17 when he prayed for his disciples and the church at large that they may be one as he and the heavenly father are one. And that is what I pray for, for my church to be united like God the father, the son and the holy spirit (trinity) are united.

Practicing my faith by wearing sacramental things like rosary, miraculous medal scapular and every Sunday I go with water and give it to father to bless it because I have the faith that father will bless it and when I used, it brings healing to my life not only that I strongly believe that blessed water is holy and when sprinkled around a home, it chases away evil spirit and it works as blood of Jesus thus offering protection for our home.

Visiting the sick. Whenever we have sick people in our community, they are announced in the church so as a good Christian I take responsibility to go and visit them and also pray for them and have meals with them so that they dont feel left out but instead feel loved and cared for.

Encouraging people. When I hear that a person is troubled and is almost losing faith it is my duty as Christian to comfort and encourage them either by sending them scriptures or going to pray with them because saint Paul said that encourage each other and pray for each other such that the love of God will remain with us always which in doing that makes me become a good Christian because I would have helped someone from losing faith.

Supporting the church by giving tithe , contributing to projects started by the church like constructing the house where priests will sleep, cleaning where people sit when they are going to pray through mopping, contribute towards buying chairs etc.

In summary I train myself to have self-control that is through my way of life of dressing decently that help avoid causing temptation, this in return make me fulfill what saint Paul talked about in his letter to Corinthians that our body is the temple of the holy spirit. And in so doing I live my body for the glory of God.
